

Participant Evaluation

An assessment of an activity or class that is completed by the person who participated in the activity or class. The goal of such an appraisal is to determine the effectiveness, popularity, and opportunities for improvement of the activity/class. A summary of evaluations reflects the original document, but tabulates the aggregate group responses – usually expressed in percentages (e.g., 90% agreed, 10% disagreed).